

APPENDIX A: WARNING SIGNS AND VULNERABILITIES CHECKLIST

---

The following are typical vulnerabilities in children prior to abuse:

- Living in a chaotic or dysfunctional household (including parental substance use, domestic violence, parental mental health issues, parental criminality).
- History of abuse (including familial child sexual abuse, risk of forced marriage, risk of 'honour'-based violence, physical and emotional abuse and neglect).
- Recent bereavement or loss.
- Gang association either through relatives, peers or intimate relationships (in cases of gang-associated CSE only).
- Attending school with young people who are sexually exploited.
- Learning disabilities.
- Unsure about their sexual orientation or unable to disclose sexual orientation to their families.
- Friends with young people who are sexually exploited.
- Homeless.
- Lacking friends from the same age group.
- Living in a gang neighbourhood.
- Living in residential care.
- Living in hostel, bed and breakfast accommodation or a foyer.
- Low self-esteem or self-confidence.
- Young carer.

The following signs and behaviour are generally seen in children who are already being sexually exploited.

- Missing from home or care.
- Physical injuries.
- Drug or alcohol misuse.
- Involvement in offending.
- Repeat sexually-transmitted infections, pregnancy and terminations.
- Absent from school.
- Change in physical appearance.
- Evidence of sexual bullying and/or vulnerability through the internet and/or social networking sites.
- Estranged from their family.
- Receipt of gifts from unknown sources.
- Recruiting others into exploitative situations.
- Poor mental health.
- Self-harm.
- Thoughts of or attempts at suicide.

Evidence shows that any child displaying several vulnerabilities from the above lists should be considered to be at high risk of sexual exploitation. Professionals should immediately start an investigation to determine the risk, along with preventative and protective action as required.

However, it is important to note that children without pre-existing vulnerabilities can still be sexually exploited. Therefore, any child showing risk indicators in the second list, but none of the vulnerabilities in the first, should also be considered as a potential victim, with appropriate assessment and action put in place as required.

The following organisations and agencies need to take account of the above list and work together to identify children showing the warning signs of, or who are vulnerable to, child sexual exploitation, and act accordingly:

- Accident and Emergency.
- CAMHS services.
- Children's Social Care (including family support/early intervention teams, child protection/duty and assessment teams, looked-after children teams, leaving care teams).
- Drop-in clinics and community based health services.
- Drugs and alcohol misuse services.
- Educational institutions (including schools, pupil referral units, academies, private schools, special schools, and extra-curricular provision).
- Fire service.
- Gangs and serious youth violence projects.
- GP surgeries.
- GUM and family planning clinics.
- Housing (including foyers, hostels, refuges, bed and breakfast, and housing associations)
- Midwifery and health visitors.
- Police (including neighbourhood policing, missing, safer schools officers, gangs and youth violence, organised crime, trafficking, child abuse investigation teams, sexual offences teams)
- Residential children's homes.
- Sexual Assault Referral Centres.
- Violence against women agencies (including rape crisis and refuge provision).
- Youth Justice agencies (including youth offending services, secure training centres and youth offending institutions).
- Youth service and specialist agencies working with children and young people (including mentoring services, those working with disabled children, LGBT children, BME children)
